FLU OUTBREAK IS REPORTED IN HALF OF NATION

Push to Yalu May End Korean War, Oliver Tells Jaycees

MOST ILLNESS IS IN CENTRAL AREA STATES

By The Associated Press
Flu—or what feels like flu—has spread into more than half the 48 states but the outbreaks so far generally have been mild.

The Army, a state university, a steel company and some local officials have taken steps to combat the infections with influenza vaccine.

A nation-wide survey by the Associated Press showed that the bulk of the cases are in the central part of the nation and that Texas, Tennessee and Arkansas have been particularly hard hit.

Army to Vaccinate 250,000 in Germany

Frankfurt, Germany (AP)—The U. S. Army moved swiftly today to vaccinate more than 250,000 American servicemen in Europe against influenza and reported 378 flu cases in military hospitals in Germany, England and France.

Fourteen Germans have died in a flu epidemic which broke out in the American occupation zone. Thousands of Germans are ill. No American fatalities have been reported.

Texas reported from 200,000 to 250,000 flu cases. Arkansas had the greatest number of cases of upper respiratory infections in its history. The disease was reaching the epidemic stage in Tennessee. The Eastern and Western states were comparatively free of outbreak. (Turn to Page Seventeen)

Engineer Testifies In Station Crash

Washington (AP)—The engineer who first detected trouble on the Pennsylvania passenger train which crashed into Washington Union Station a week ago testified today someone must have interfered with its air brake system hours earlier, in Rhode Island.

Engineer W. H. Matta, who took the train from Boston as far as New Haven, was the witness before the Senate Commerce Committee. He said he found at Kingston, R. I., that someone must have turned an angle cock on the third car from the front, shutting off the air pressure on the brakes.

PENNA. GUARD GATHERING TO END JAIL RIOT

Harrisburg, (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine said today a portion of the Pennsylvania National Guard is "under alert" for possible use in ending a four-day revolt of prisoners at the Rockview State Penitentiary.

By LEONARD A. UNGER
Bellefonte (AP)—Five officers of Pennsylvania's National Guard arrived at Rockview State Penitentiary today amid rumors that soldiers would join state police and prison guards in a united effort to end the four-day rebellion of 325 prisoners.

State officials declined to comment on whether a force of guardsmen would be brought to the riot-torn prison. Nor would they reply to questions as to whether a move to storm the barricaded cell block where the men are holding out is being considered.

The move followed shortly after rebel convicts, holding six prison guards as hostages, offered to exchange one of the hostages for another guard.

Earlier an ominous calm hung over the prison with the convicts sitting tight in their barricaded cellblock.

More than 100 heavily armed guards, stood ready to storm that stronghold should state officials decide that action is necessary.

Mrs. Sofia Marie Miller suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries. She and her husband, Walter, work at a North Side brush factory.

Agricultural and Economics Group Holds Annual Meeting, Dines With Warren Kiwanians

Approximately 100 members of the Warren County Agricultural and Home Economics Extension Association held their annual meeting in the YWCA Activity Building Wednesday and joined with members of the Warren Kiwanis Club for luncheon, at which time O. C. Tritt, County Agent, and Mrs. Tritt were honored for his 25 years of service as County Agent.

The occasion also indicated the 38th Anniversary of Kiwanis International.

The combined luncheon program was opened with the invocation by the Rev. Robert Steen and group singing followed the dinner with Clem Wolstencroft leading and R. Pierson Eaton the pianist. Extension president Nelson Crooks was the master of ceremonies and introduced Kiwanis President Gust Carlson. Mr. Carlson extended a welcome to all in attendance and introduced the large group of Youngsville Kiwanians who were present.

Following this Carlton Curtis of Columbus, an executive committee member expressed very warmly the deep appreciation the farmers of Warren County held for Mr. and Mrs. Tritt and gave a brief history to some of the County Agent's work during his 25 years' service and the sacrifices that have been made.

Mr. Tritt responded to the presentation with a few remarks and stated, "personalities come and go, and anything I have accomplished has been through the help of the people in the county."

A billfold was then presented by C. C. Winans, a member of the agriculture committee of the Kiwanis Club, on behalf of its members.

The main speaker for the occasion was J. M. Fry, Director of the Agriculture and Home Economics Extension Service at State College and past Pennsylvania District Governor of Kiwanis. Mr. Fry spoke chiefly on Pennsylvania agriculture and gave figures comparing this Commonwealth with other states in the farming enterprise. The director also spoke highly of Kiwanis active part in the field of agriculture and on Land Grant Colleges. State College is the second Land Grant College organized in 1855.

Mr. Fry also stated that this year is the 50th anniversary of Extension Agriculture and that 101 years ago educated farming was started.

The morning session of the Extension Association began at 10:30 and consisted of two movies, "Currier Farm Country Style" and "Why (Turn to Page Seventeen)

50 Millions To Be Raised As Building Fund

Buck Hill Falls, Pa. (AP)—Fifty million dollars will be raised by Methodist Church members in the next four years for new church buildings and renovation work, the Methodist Board of Missions was told last night.

Dr. Earl R. Brown, general executive secretary of the church's Division of Home Missions, set that figure as the overall total to be raised by local annual conferences.

Speaking at a session of the mission board's annual four-day meeting, Dr. Brown said that a special fund-raising campaign, known as "The Advance for Christ and His Church," will be continued. The fund in the past four years, he said, raised over two million dollars for church building needs.

Shake-up Starts In Dept. of Agriculture

Washington, (AP)—President Eisenhower's Cabinet officers took over their commands today and one promptly shook up his department—agriculture.

Others were expected to make changes later on.

Secretary Benson, moving with surprising speed on his first working day, ordered the regrouping of some 25 Agriculture Department agencies. He called it the first step toward "a gradual streamlining."

And, in a memorandum to department employees, Benson said he would expect "a full day's work for a full day's pay."

'Russia Wins Great Successes While We Wait For Dust to Settle' Says Rhee's Advisor; Claims American POW's 'In Dreadful State'

Dr. Bob Oliver Says - -

(Excerpts from an address delivered at the Jaycee bosses' night dinner, Wednesday.)

What will happen to our own POW's in North Korea if we push to the Yalu River? Very likely they will be lost or sent to the Siberian salt mines. They are in a dreadful situation.

If Stalin dies, what will happen in Russia? I believe there would be little change. While Syngman Rhee is 78, Stalin is 72 and scientists are trying to aid him in reaching 100.

Red POW's are treated so well, they have plenty of time to organize riots directly ordered by the Kremlin.

We know no president of ours is going to order sneak flights over Russia to drop A-bombs, but how do we know Russia won't do this to us? Russia has 200 A-bombs, we have 2,000.

Even in England, where he is hated, it is firmly believed that the Korean war would be over if General MacArthur had remained on the job in Japan and had been allowed to use his own military genius.

All over Asia there is amazement that the great and powerful United States has been fought to a draw by only a portion of the Korean Communist Army.

We must not only drive to the Yalu river. We must bomb Manchurian bases and cities.

Build up the ROK Army? South Korea pleads for this. Their soldiers are magnificent fighting men. The South Koreans want all Communists driven out and all Korea united. If we give them a chance, they'll push to the Yalu.

On helicopter trips six weeks ago, I could see that the Reds are fortified for 30 miles back of their lines; we are fortified for 10.

Russian Marxism maintains there will be a world economic collapse, then Communism can take over. Russia wants the Korean war to continue so our strength will be diminished.

Send Japanese troops into Korea? Korea and Japan have been enemies for thousands of years. (Turn to Page Eighteen)

RED CHINA ALIBIS

Tokyo, (AP)—Red China's No. 2 boss charged today that a U. S. B29 Superfort violated Manchurian skies Jan. 12 and was shot down by Communist night fighters.

U. S. Far East Air Forces confirmed the loss of the bomber but asserted it was 12 to 15 miles inside North Korea—well below the Yalu River boundary of Manchuria—when crippled.

Ordinance Prohibits North Market Parking

The board of supervisors of Coneywango township is advertising elsewhere in this issue its proposed ordinance, passed in regular meeting on December 30, 1952, for the governing of parking on Market street extension.

The ordinance would prohibit parking or standing of motor vehicles on either side of the state highway from the Warren borough line north to the bridge over Jackson Run at Venturetown, or on either side of the old state highway from the Venturetown intersection north to the bridge over the same stream.

Violations, according to the advertisement, would call for summary conviction before a justice of the peace and assessment of fines ranging from $2 to $10, and costs of prosecution, or imprisonment of not more than five days for default of such payment.

Through snow, rain and sleet, over dangerous highways and at one time pushed the two-mile length of a hill, Dr. Robert T. Oliver, chairman of the Department of Speech at Penn State and one of America's foremost experts on Korean affairs, was driven from State College to Warren by Paul B. Masci, Wednesday night, to give Junior Chamber of Commerce members and their employers a message on international affairs they will not soon forget.

"How to End the War in Korea," the subject of Dr. Oliver's address, after 10 years' experience as an advisor to President Syngman Rhee of South Korea, was not completely solved for his Warren audience but he left the Jaycees and their guests, participating in the annual bosses' night dinner at Marconi Outing Club, with the impression that he advocates an all-out drive to push the Communists to the Yalu river and there continue, to somewhat better advantage, the "stalemate war" currently being fought.

Other plans for ending the war? Dr. Oliver mentioned several, then gave reasons why they could not be successful. While he was inclined to doubt the efficacy of a plan General Douglas MacArthur has talked about, saying "There is no magic formula," he later declared that even in England,

"where Mac is universally hated," there is a feeling the war could have been won long ago had MacArthur remained on the job in Japan and allowed to exercise his military genius as he saw fit.

Or should America get out of Korea, retreat and deal with the Russians elsewhere? "If we retreat from Korea, all Asia and the Middle East would crumple," said the speaker, "but Ike has said we will not do that."

Give back the prisoners of war? Dr. Oliver pointed out that of the 170,000 held by the UN forces, 100,000 do not want to return behind the Iron Curtain. "It's not as simple as that," he said. "In the eyes of the world we stand for honor, freedom and justice. We would lose our reputation in the eyes of the world."

Throughout his address, and in dealing with various means of ending the war, Dr. Oliver emphasized that "We have consistently failed to determine between our friends and our enemies," and he called the White Paper on China (1949) "The most nefarious article in United States history." He said that he hoped "by now we have matured enough to determine between our friends and our enemies."

Again referring to the POW exchange, Dr. Oliver said "It's not a real issue anyway, and would solve nothing. The return of the prisoners is not the final issue, it's a decision on the dividing line."

Make a deal with the Russians? Dr. Oliver indicated this would mean acceptance of Communism by the UN, withdrawal of support for Nationalist China to allow the Reds to capture Formosa, and a deal such as "We will give you Formosa and Korea if you give us a peace treaty with Austria." Many deals are possible, but this would not work. Eisenhower said this would be a process of trading with other people's liberties.

"What else?" he queried. "Take Chinese Nationalist troops (they have 500,000 men) into Korea? Korea has turned it down. There still are Communists in the Nationalist troops, spies and saboteurs." (Turn to Page Eighteen)

Patterson Widow Asks $2,685,000 in His Death

New York (AP)—The widow of former War Secretary Robert P. Patterson, killed a year ago today in a plane crash at South Elizabeth, N. J., has filed a $2,685,000 suit against American Airlines, charging the crash was "caused by the negligence, carelessness and recklessness of the defendant."

While the jet battles raged near the Yalu river, Allied fighter bombers swept north and hit Red supply facilities within 40 miles of the Manchurian border. Other fighter-bombers smashed at Communist targets along the length of the Korean Front.

Ground action remained relatively light, the U. S. Eighth Army said. Some sharp fighting broke out on the rugged Eastern Front.

Weather along the battlefield improved slightly with an early morning low of 9 degrees. Light snow fell in the West.

Outnumbered Sabre Pilots Blast MIGs In Furious Battles

Seoul, (AP)—Outnumbered American Sabre pilots today blasted at least four Communist MIGs from North Korean skies in the second straight day of furious air battles, the U. S. Fifth Air Force reported.

Three MIGs were damaged in the clash between 10 Sabres and 20 Red warplanes. Additional claims of one MIG destroyed and three damaged are pending confirmation.

The Sabres destroyed seven MIGs and damaged three yesterday without the loss of a plane.

Rotating Clusters
Of Lights Are Seen
Over Jap Air Base

A U. S. Air Base, Northern Japan (AP)—Mysterious flying objects—"rotating clusters of red, white and green lights"—have been sighted over Northern Japan by American airmen, the Air Force disclosed.

Intelligence reports placed the sightings close to Russian territory in the Kurile Islands and Sakhalin, they added:

"There are too many indications of the presence of something... to be considered an observation of nothing." And they discounted the possibility the sighted objects were mere "reflections of light."

Col. Curtis R. Low, commander of the Northern Division of the Japan Air Defense Force, said the flying clusters were seen by fighter pilots and ground personnel and were tracked on radar. He released official intelligence reports on the sighting to the Associated Press.

The reports were similar to those describing "flying saucers" in the U. S. One said the lights appeared to hang motionless at times, and at other times disappeared with blinding speed.

Col. Donald J. M. Blakeslee, World War II ace and commander of an escort fighter wing, took detailed observations on one rotating cluster and tried in vain to intercept it in a jet.

Sightings were made by many persons at many points over Northern Japan Dec. 29. On Jan. 9 a rotating cluster was spotted by two fighter pilots and was tracked on radar.

The report was signed by Lt. Col. Russell Powell, intelligence officer, U. S. Air Force.

Young Army Officer Misses Desperate Loyalty of Outfit

By HAL BOYLE
New York (P) — The young army officer was looking for something. Something he had lost. Something he felt missing in America. He told me about it as we sat chatting about Korea. He had been back from there a short time, and now, was getting ready to leave again—on his fourth term of duty overseas. But he wore on his chest none of the ribbons he had won. Only the silver bars on his shoulders to show his rank. And he looked so young you'd have guessed he'd just been commissioned; unless you looked in his eyes.

in Korea now from what they were in the old days. They got it pretty well made there now. Things are pretty good—all considered." He mentioned a few names and asked if I remembered them. I didn't.

"Well, you know how it is in Korea," he said. "They come and go. I guess they came after you left. Now they're back here too. Most of them. So am I."

He fingered his garrison cap restlessly.

"What's wrong with me anyway?" he broke out. "I used to dream at night in Korea of getting back home. But I wasn't back home a week until I felt homesick."

"What do you mean?"

"Oh, I don't know. I just looked forward so much to getting back to the states. And when I did... something was missing."

"I got shot four times in the last war. I didn't expect to be treated like a hero. I know that the hero business don't last."

"I thought perhaps he might be having family troubles. But, no, he said his wife and little son were getting along fine."

"It isn't the way people feel about me here," he said. "I guess maybe the trouble is the way I feel about them. I don't know. I feel out of place. I don't feel like I really belong. What am I looking for?"

And then I knew. He missed the desperate loyalty to an outfit that knits together men in danger and discomfort. He missed the close kinship of war that welds a group of diverse men into a single unit willing to face death or life in mutual faith and trust.

"I guess you're right," he said when I told him that. "But I don't seem able to find that here. I don't fit in. Maybe I'll find it again in my next post. I'm shipping to the Caribbean next week."

"Why the Caribbean?"

"Well, I don't think they'd let me take the wife and kid back to Korea," he said. "And I think I could use a mild winter for a change."

Youth Canteen Looks to 2nd Birthday Celebration, Saturday

Deficit Overcome, Group Is Planning Redecorating, Other Measures for Popular 'Spot'

The Warren Youth Canteen will celebrate its second anniversary in the form of a "Birthday Party" this Saturday.

On January 27, 1951, several hundred people, young and old alike, jammed into the converted "Spot" for the grand opening. The run-down YMCA Annex, used 15 years before as an amateur golf course, had taken on a new face and offered to Warren and the surrounding community a place for the young people to find their entertainment.

To some, it was just another place to go, but to others the eve of January 27, 1951, was a memorable moment that climaxed over a year's struggle and presented still more opportunities in the years to come.

The "Spot", a title chosen for the Canteen's nickname, has had its ups and downs over the past two years and on occasions looked to be on its last leg. One of its biggest blows came in December, 1951, when its originator and director, James Hengst, was called into active duty with the U. S. Navy.

At that time, John Stachowiak, a Warren High School faculty member, took over the directorship of the Canteen and, through his own efforts and the hard work of his youth boards, the Canteen was cleared of all debt for the first time in November of last year.

The present officers of the Canteen are Charles Johnson, president; George Wollaston, vice president; Denise McGarry, secretary; and David Woodruff, treasurer. Board members are Anthony Cosmano, Bob Fitzgerald, Mary Ann O'Dell, Nancy Cannon, Ed Erickson, Charles Salerno, Joe Pascuzzi, and Murray McComas, who just replaced Forest Campbell because of excusable conditions. Another active leader in the program besides Mr. Stachowiak is Robert Guiger.

With the financial status out of the red, the Youth Board is now turning its thoughts from that worry and concentrating on building better programs. Having an average of 200 to 250 young people in attendance at its parties as a fine support, the board now wants to return the favor by reducing the rates on orchestra dances, charge no admission for record dances and hold two free parties a year. In addition to this, game programs will be planned.

The deficit eliminated, a considerable amount of redecorating has already been done and further work laid out.

Currently, the Canteen is in the midst of its membership drive, under the chairmanship of Charles Salerno. The membership price is 75 cents, to run until the start of school in September, when the new fiscal year starts. The drive ends January 31, by which time a good share of the 400 persons using the facilities are expected to be signed up.

For the open house "Birthday Dance" Saturday evening, parents will also be welcome to come and see what their sons and daughters have accomplished in the Canteen. The affair will start at 8:30 and is going to feature three orchestras and two floor shows. Refreshments will be served.

Heading up the party are: Nancy Cannon and Ed Erickson, co-chairmen for the floor shows; George Wollaston and Dave Woodruff, charge of the door; Murray McComas is making arrangements for chaperones; Denny McGarry is handling publicity; and Bob Fitzgerald is in charge of refreshments.

With Many Retailers Seeking Credit Business, Merchants Over Nation Say Much Post-Yule Buying Is 'On the Cuff'

By SAM DAWSON.
New York. (AP)—Merchants report that much of the record Christmas and post-Yule buying has been done on the cuff.

Some retailers are going out hard for this kind of business. Makers and collectors of installment loans predict a still further swelling in the total of consumer credit—which the Department of Commerce notes is at a record high of around 23 billion dollars.

The Commerce Department survey says consumer debt jumped three billion dollars since March and that the proportion of buyers using credit appears to be expanding.

Executives of credit agencies contend this isn't harmful, because the country is prosperous—and debt totals always rise when times are good.

Installment debt for autos, home appliances and other consumer goods is approaching 16 billion dollars. But the argument that it is okay runs this way:

A million more people have jobs now than a year ago. The average factory weekly paycheck has gone up 13 per cent in two years. The total of wages and salaries—the source of payments of most installment debts—is now around 200 billion dollars a year, nearly three times what it was before World War II. The percentage of total personal income after taxes owed for time payments is not as high now as before the war.

The Commerce Department's observation that the proportion of buyers using credit is expanding brings out an answer by the head of one of the largest consumer credit companies—Arthur O. Dietz, president of C. I. T. Financial Corp.

He contends, consumer debt is spread out among more families and more prosperous families than before the war, and is therefore no threat to the economy.

He reasons that in 1935 most of the 1½ billion dollars of installment debt was distributed among 13 million middle-income families, or 45 per cent of the total number of American families.

Now there are about 26 million families, or about 65 per cent of the total, in that group and carrying the largest share of the 16 billion dollars of debt.

The average debt of the families is much higher now than in 1935. But Dietz argues that in 1935 the average income within the group was closer to $2,000, and is now much higher—meaning the group is "in excellent financial condition to carry the obligations they have contracted for."

American families used around 50 billion dollars of consumer credit in 1952 in buying some 215 billion dollars worth of goods and services, Dietz says. They still owe around 23 billion dollars.

But like many bankers, Dietz warns merchants against over-promotion of credit selling. He says that too liberal terms to dubious customers "are snares which entrap not only the over-optimistic store purchaser but also the over-optimistic store owner."

KNOW YOUR STATE

Prepared for the Warren Times-Mirror by the State Planning Board, Department of Commerce.

PENNSYLVANIA'S WINTER WEATHER

Nothing better illustrates Pennsylvania's unique position among the Eastern states than the variety of its winter weather. In the north, our State approximates the latitude of southern New England, and in the south experiences the notably milder climate of Maryland. The average annual snowfall, the State Planning Board of the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce points out, is only 30 inches in the southeastern portion of the Commonwealth, and is twice as much along our northern border.

The average number of days when snow covers the ground varies from a minimum of 40 in the eastern third of the State and the southwestern corner, to as much as 120, or practically one-third of the year, in our northern counties where winter sports are becoming an important business. The average January temperature along our southern border is ten degrees higher than along the line where Pennsylvania touches New York.

A matter which affects the length of time during which the land can be cultivated is the depth to which frost penetrates into the soil. Except along the mountain ranges, the depth of frozen earth in the heart of the winter averages from 10 to 15 inches in the southern third of the State, but reaches down 20 to 30 inches in the northern counties.

One fact which is of considerable interest in connection with the penetration of frost into the ground is the slow but persistent movement of alternate waves of heat and frost, deeper and deeper into our soil. Careful temperature measurements in undisturbed soil can detect the presence of layers of warmth and cold from the summers and winters of former years, and it is even believed that a record of the long period of cold associated with the last glacial period can be detected deep under the surface of the ground in our northeastern states.

These traces of the summer's heat and winter's cold of bygone years have, until lately, been of little economic importance, but it is possible that, with the development of the device known as the "heat pump," a part of the warmth necessary for our winter comfort will at some future date be supplied by the summer sun of a decade or more ago, and that the heat stored in the ground or in the ground water will some day help the people of Pennsylvania to keep their homes warm in the winter.

President Eisenhower's State Of Union Message Expected To Clarify Issues Now Obscure

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington (AP)—It's when he delivers his State of the Union message to Congress, probably within a couple of weeks, that President Eisenhower may get down to details on what he intends to do.

His inaugural address Tuesday simply outlined his position: He is now, as before election, an internationalist. It was reassurance to his country's allies if they had any doubt.

Former President Truman, in almost all his farewell messages, talks and interviews, gave very little space to domestic problems. He put the big emphasis on foreign affairs.

Eisenhower did the same thing Tuesday. And in general he pledged himself to follow Truman's basic foreign program.

He wants good world trade and continued foreign aid for, and cooperation with, American allies. He's willing to seek disarmament.

The latter probably won't happen. Russia has her own ideas on that. But Eisenhower indicated he may be thinking of plans that go beyond Truman's. In the campaign he criticized the Truman administration for a lack of what he said he considered effective planning against Russia.

Buried in one of the paragraphs in Tuesday's speech Eisenhower seemed to be repeating this criticism and hinting he intended to raise his sights higher.

This was when he said it is proper . . . "We assure our friends . . . that . . . we . . . know . . . the difference . . . between a thoughtfully calculated goal and a spasmodic reaction to the stimulus of emergencies."

Spasmodic the Truman plan certainly was in the beginning of the cold war with Russia, although it could hardly be called a plan at all at that time.

Truman said recently his suspicions of Russia began in earnest shortly after the war when Stalin wouldn't pull his troops out of Iran. Truman decided on a show-down right there.

He warned Stalin to get out. Stalin did. Truman's quick action, and reaction, paid off. He reacted again when the Communists began to push against Greece and Turkey.

That time he set up a new Monroe Doctrine by throwing this country's arm around Greece and Turkey and giving them aid. The Communists lost out.

The Marshall Plan for helping Europe recover economically was of a longer-range nature. It was supposed to last at the outside four years. Before it could end, the cold war with Russia became hotter.

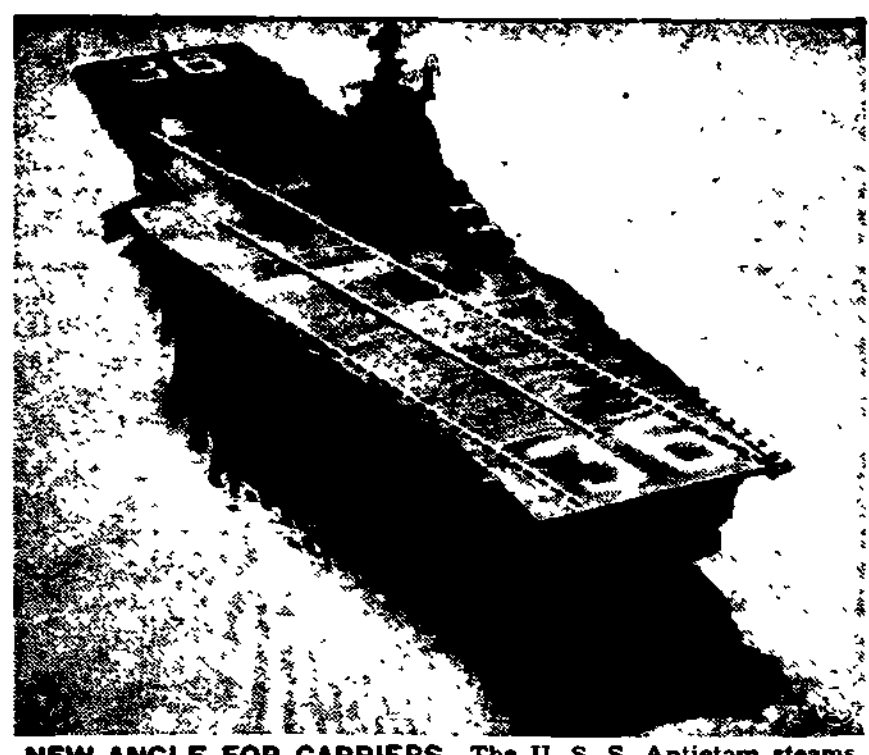

Then this country entered into the North Atlantic Pact, this country's first peacetime military alliance with Western Europe, and gave arms. At the same time the U. S. urged its allies to set up a European army.

This looked much further into the future than the Marshall Plan. In fact, then Secretary of State Acheson last year said strong armaments might be necessary for a generation.

This policy worked out by Truman and Acheson—surrounding Russia with armed strength to discourage any Russian military adventures without starting war with Russia—has become known as "containment."

So at the end Truman and Acheson might argue there was nothing spasmodic about their planning. What Eisenhower has in mind beyond this remains to be seen.

If Eisenhower doesn't spell out his ideas in ABC fashion in his State of the Union message, he will have time to do so when he later submits his specific programs to Congress.

NEW ANGLE FOR CARRIERS—The U. S. S. Antietam steams from New York harbor after having an angled section added to the port side of her flight deck. The angled section gives an added measure of safety to landing operations by providing a lane leading away from the ship's superstructure, and is expected to prove particularly valuable for use by carrier-based bombers, with their wide wingspans.

Sadly Missed

(Contributed)

The three Durlin brothers who lost their lives in the fire in the McCoy home last Wednesday morning will be missed by Seventh Day Adventist church members of Warren.

They had attended services every week, accompanying Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Shattenberg, who stopped and picked them up.

Plans had been made by the Shattenbergs to take them to Cook's Forest on January 18th, where all the young people of the Seventh Day Adventist churches of western Pennsylvania were to meet for an outing. The three boys had been looking forward to the trip and had discussed plans with Mr. Shattenberg, who was also their Sabbath school teacher. He enjoyed having them in his class.

Cheers, Tears and Handshakes As Missouri Welcomes Harry Home; Crowd of 10,000 Waits at Depot

Independence, Mo., (AP)—Harry S. Truman, welcomed home in roaring receptions that moved him to the verge of tears, began looking for work today lest idleness lead him into "devilment."

After nearly eight turbulent years and unprecedented responsibilities at a time of world crisis, he suddenly found himself with nothing to do but unpack and find a job.

Harry Truman, ex-president of the United States, is a restless man who has been working 17 hours a day at the White House in Washington, and he's already worrying how long he can "take it easy."

a man into trouble," he told reporters. "It's the lack of it. When a fellow has nothing to do he gets into devilment."

Offers of high-paying jobs continued to pour in from all parts of the country but he withheld any acceptances until he can find something to his liking and suitable to his talents.

He already has rented a private office in the Federal Reserve Bank Building in nearby Kansas City and put Miss Rose Conway, his personal stenographer, to work on his mail.

The ex-president and Mrs. Truman, happy to be home again, stepped from the presidential private car last night to an estimated at 10,000 gathered around the little depot to give them an emotional greeting.

Truman choked up as he gazed at the assembled thousands, some of whom had been waiting for hours.

"I appreciate this reception," he told them. "It's magnificent. There's not any more I can say except that we are back home for good."

Martin Luther nailed his famous "protest" to the door of the castle church in Wittenberg, Germany, in 1517 and opened the "protestant" reformation.

Questions and Answers for Korean Vets

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q.—I'm planning to study law, and also take a bar review course, under the Korean GI Bill. What do I put down on my application form?

A.—You should list both your objectives—which probably will be Bachelor of Laws Degree—and the bar review course. You must list both in order to get both.

Q.—I want to get a GI loan to buy a house. What is the largest amount of money I may borrow from my bank?

A.—The size of the loan depends entirely on the amount of money your bank or any other lender is willing to lend. The only limit is on the amount of guaranty that VA can issue on the loan. That limit is 60% of the loan up to a maximum of $7,500.

Q.—I am getting retirement pay from the armed forces. Is it possible to pay premiums on my National Service Life Insurance policy by allotment?

A.—Yes, provided proper arrangements are made with the service department from which you are receiving your retirement pay.

Q.—Before I went back on active duty, I was going to college under the World War II GI Bill. I'm about to be discharged, and I want to know whether I can continue with my studies under that law.

A.—You will be permitted to resume your training under the World War II GI Bill, provided you begin within a reasonable period after your discharge. Also, your conduct and progress must have been satisfactory while you were in school before, and you must have GI entitlement remaining.

Many Activities Are Reported At Adventist Session

Members of the Warren Seventh Day Adventist church, holding their year-end business session, learned with interest the sum total of their activities in 1952.

Pastor Valentine expressed the belief that the year just past has been the best yet in all lines of church endeavor. Reports were made by the church treasurer, Mrs. R. R. Kerr; home missionary secretary, Miss Greta Pearson; and the church school teacher, K. H. Seidel.

According to the records, the 74 members of the local congregation contributed $11,845.09 in tithes and offerings during 1952. Of this amount, $9,096 was earmarked for mission work at home and abroad.

Contributions through the Dorcas Welfare Society totaled $632 in cash and value of clothing, food and other materials for relief cases in the community, in Korea, and other needy areas. Dorcas members spent 1,168 hours in carrying out this welfare work.

The school operated by the church, with 12 enrolled, reported a balanced budget, with $1,276.20 expended thus far in the church school year.

The pastor also announced six persons had joined the church in 1952, stating the greatest satisfaction comes from "seeing the church develop spiritually as well as materially."

In the break-down of reports, it is shown that 181 needy persons were aided, 121 food baskets were given away, 31 treatments were provided with $67.11 for program promotion, and $148.69 in aid to academics and colleges.

Members were again reminded of the Voice of Prophecy heard at 10:30 a. m. Sundays over WJOC, Jamestown, and Truth For Today, at 9:15 a. m. Sundays over WESB, Bradford.

Mrs. Fred Emhardt was then presented in an intriguing and instructive paper on "Space Travel." A delightful social hour followed, with Mrs. Arthur Soderholm and Mrs. Ernestine Hill presiding at the tea table, which was made attractive with bouquet of mixed spring flowers and green candles.

The next meeting will be held February 3 at the home of Mrs. Helen Christensen.

WARREN GRANGE

For the literary program held in connection with the regular meeting of Warren Grange No. 1025, Burr Garvin gave a fine talk on his trip to Maine, illustrating with colored pictures which proved very entertaining. In addition, Walter Taft gave a reading, "Jitt's Ladder." To conclude the evening, the social committee served refreshments.

Youngsville FHA Has Demonstrator During Farm Show

During the 1953 Pennsylvania Farm Show held at Harrisburg, Miss Martha Danielson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Danielson of Pittsfield, participated in a fine demonstration of Singer Fashion Stitches in the FHA Booth.

Martha was representing the Youngsville Chapter, Future Homemakers of America. She reports the most popular of the stitches done for the demonstration was that done with metallic thread on organdy for party aprons.

Acting as hostesses in the FHA Booth during the period of her demonstration were three of her fellow club members, Patricia Abraham, Pauline Urbanik and Patricia Bower.

While in Harrisburg, the girls toured the state capitol and museum, visited some of the better known restaurants, and saw a couple of shows. They also enjoyed the opportunity for shopping in the Harrisburg stores.

En route to the show on Wednesday, they made a stop at State College, where they enjoyed a tour of the school of home economics. Driving them was their FHA advisor, Mrs. William Overturf.

The four-day trip, Wednesday through Saturday, was financed by the Youngsville Chapter. Those attending were chosen because they had been leaders in club activities for the current year and the trip was a reward for their efforts.

Wives Must Realize Mates Are Proud Too

IN a recent letter a wife listed all the things she had done for her husband in twelve years of marriage. Things she felt weren't properly appreciated.

She had held down a job during the first few years of marriage to help her husband get his start. She had "done without things for herself" so that money could be put back into his business. She had been a good manager.

Well, that's all fine. And she should be proud of all of those things. But what did she do to make her husband proud of himself? This, after all, is what makes a man happy with a woman. Not the sacrificing she does to help him get ahead.

A man often secretly resents the idea that it was necessary for his wife to help him get his start—so that his appreciation of her efforts in that regard may be tinged with the feeling that he should have been able to make the grade alone.

A HELPING MATE'S JOB IS MORE DIFFICULT

THEREFORE, it is even more important for the wife who helps her husband get a start, to build up his self-esteem, then it is for the wife of the man who can say to himself: "I've made a success and I've made it alone."

That may be unfair but it is true in many instances. So what has the wife done to build up her husband's pride in himself? Has she made him the kind of home that he is proud to bring his friends to?

Has she publicly given him credit for his success—instead of always reminding others of what a rough time she had when he was getting his start and how she held down a job in order to help him?

Has she worked as hard to make his home life pleasant and entertaining as the wife whose husband got ahead without his wife's help? It isn't enough for a wife to have done those things for her husband that she can take pride in having done. She has to make sure she has also done things that make him feel proud of himself.

Much applause greeted Miss Dorothy Lincoln's travelogue given at the January meeting of McClintock PTA. Many interested parents and friends were present and relished the experiences of the seven-week trip through the colored slides and explanation of each.

Miss Veura Schuler's fifth grade room won the attendance award and first grade mothers, with Mrs. Frank Suppa as chairman, served refreshments.

PINE GROVE PTA

Russell—Pine Grove PTA held its January meeting at the school Tuesday evening, with President Axel Carlstrom in charge. By-laws, which have been revised and corrected, were read and adopted, pending approval of the state chairman. The president gave a report of the County Council meeting held in Warren; it was decided to have a towel and holder shower for the school cafeteria; four new members were enrolled; the seventh grade received the attendance award of $3.69; and the treasurer reported a balance of $149.07.

Mrs. Arthur Briggs, Jr., introduced Dr. George Riley, who gave an interesting talk on narcotics. Members were reminded the February meeting will be the annual Founders' Day observance and, to conclude, refreshments were enjoyed.

CIRCLE MEETING

Mrs. Arthur Cobb, 21 Schanz street, was hostess for the January meeting of Gertrude Baumbach Circle of Grace Methodist church. Devotions were given by Mrs. Norman Pierce and the lesson was reviewed by Mrs. D. A. Bairdow. Plans were discussed for purchasing kitchen stools for the Cribbs Home and for the collection of clothing for refugees in Europe.

Illinois mines produced more than 17 per cent of U. S. coal in 1952.

Helpful Program For Woman's Club

Mrs. John Urbaitis, conducting the regular meeting of the Woman's Club Community Service Department, presented her husband, Dr. Urbaitis, in his second departmental appearance this season. He showed a film, "Fear of Children," which was produced by the National Institute of Mental Health.

The speaker brought out the fact that "our present society, with its small families, brings emotional problems closer to the parents. In past times, when larger families were the rule, children taught each other, handled and solved a great many of their own problems." He reminded that each child has his own rate of development, each of which may be normal. Parents, he warned, must learn to understand these differences and act accordingly. He concluded with the thought that there is great merit in the Chinese system which "spoils the child and the child will grow up to spoil the grandparent and so avoid filling the mental institutions." A helpful discussion period followed.

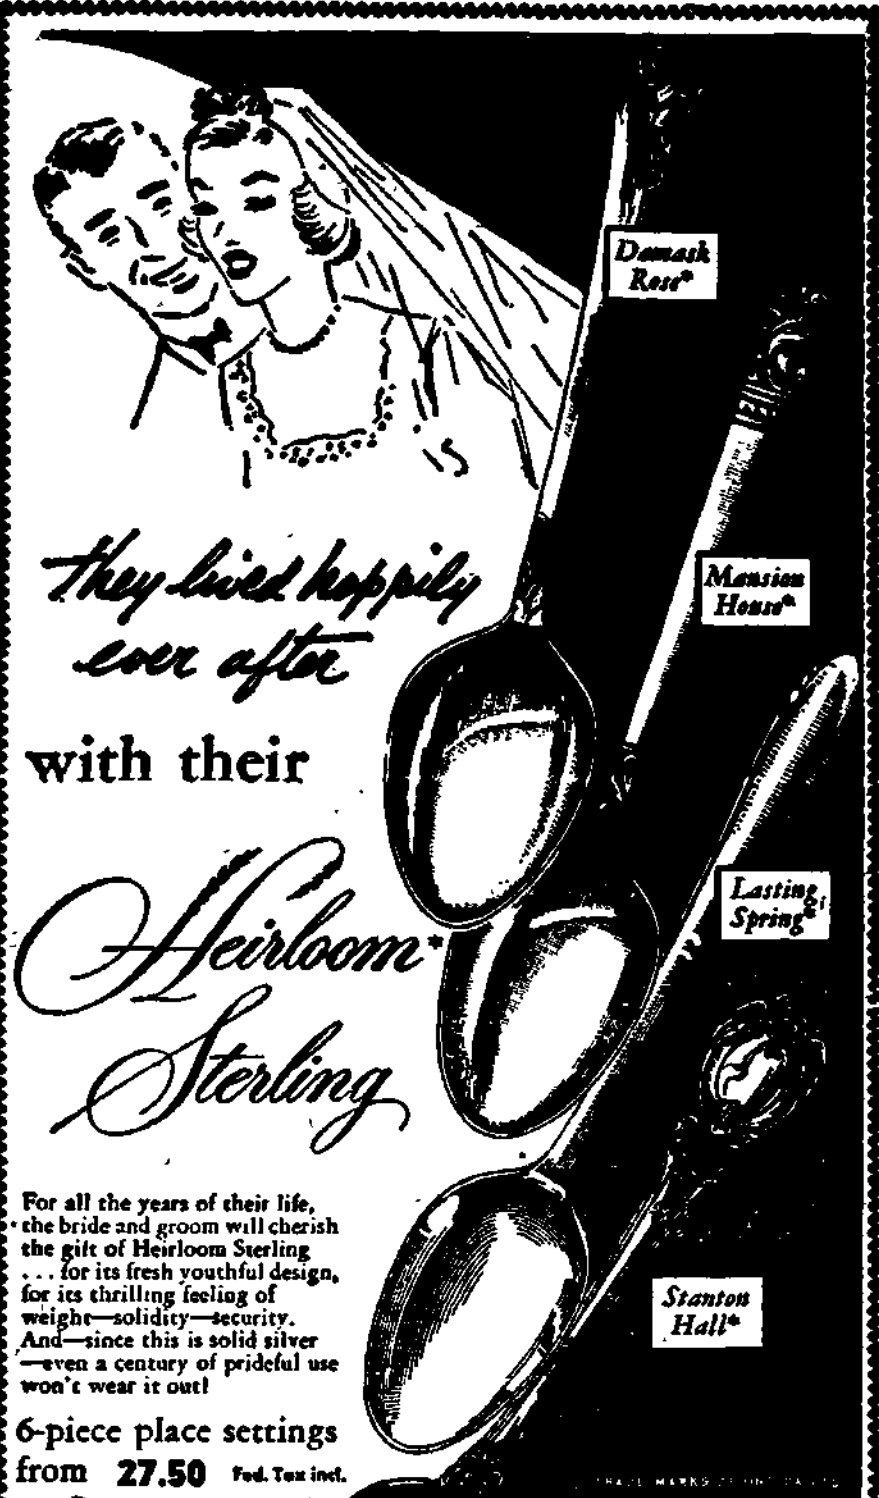

Announcement was made by Miss Mary Craft of next Monday's meeting of the Drama Department when Mrs. Norman Morgan will speak on stage design and its operation. An appeal was made by Mrs. William Glassman for rummage to be used in a sale to benefit the International Girl Scout Troop on January 30-31 and announcement was made of a public card party, to benefit the same group, on February 10.

Mrs. D. E. Conaway, Jr., was hostess for tea, with Mrs. Fred Emhardt and Mrs. James Potter presiding.

IRVINGDALE PTA

Mrs. Knapp was in charge of the regular meeting of Irvingdale PTA, with devotions by Mrs. George Johnson. Routine reports were presented by the secretary, Mrs. George Johnson, and the treasurer, Mrs. Oscar Sequist. After the attendance prize had been awarded to the grade one taught by Mrs. Norris, a collection was taken.

For the program, Mrs. Lena Schaeffer gave a talk on her work as assistant probation officer for girls in Warren county and, to conclude, refreshments were served by the Girl Scouts.

Chosen to serve with Mrs. Archibald were Mrs. William Glassman, first vice president; Mrs. William Wehner, second vice president; Mrs. J. T. Valone, third vice president; Mrs. Stanley Lawson, secretary; Mrs. Sidney D. Blackman, treasurer.

Several musical selections during the evening were led by the International Troop members, in full uniform, with Mrs. Edward Slick at the piano, and this group brought the evening to a close with recital of the Scout Promise.

Lacy PTA Enjoys Fathers' Night And Busy Meeting

Group singing of a selection dedicated to fathers opened the January meeting of the Lacy PTA, Mrs. John Trauffer presiding. A letter was ready by the secretary from Superintendent Carl Whipple, stating the committee on buildings and grounds is considering the re-lighting of Lacy building and will recommend purchases in the near future.

Miss Alice Anderson, principal, confirmed this statement by saying it is expected the lights will be installed about Easter time.

Mrs. Charles Stevens reported the highlights of the January Council meeting and reminded members that May 2 is the date designated for the Northwest District PTA conference to be held in Warren.

Mrs. Frank Smith reported attendance of 20 members at the recent study group meeting and announced the February session will concentrate on children of kindergarten age.

Robert Shine made an appeal in behalf of the Boy Scouts and invited all dads to a committee meeting to be held at 7:00 p. m. Monday, January 26, in the United Refining Company office.

Mrs. Roger Olson gave an informative talk on the meeting held by a Council committee and local physicians regarding the Well Baby Clinic.

Other important dates announced were the meeting of Cub Pack II, to be held this evening, and the play, "Three Little Pigs," to be presented May 8. Both room awards went to Mrs. Smith's first grade.

Sugar Grove—An all-day meeting was held at the Presbyterian church Monday, when the Women's Missionary Society completed three quilts for the Korean project.

At the regular meeting of the society, held at the home of the president, Josephine Ricker, the hostess was assisted by Mrs. J. A. McIntosh. Miss Ricker conducted devotions on a "Faith" theme and was in charge of the business meeting. Among several letters read was one from Mrs. Gerda DeForest, Warren, a charter member of the group. Mrs. Scott Stuart, Sr., presented the program, with all members taking part in a magazine study; Mrs. Summerson and Mrs. Stuart giving special

Dagmar, Now Svelte, Says Her Age and Weight Fluctuate So Often She Can't Tell Figures

New York (AP)—There isn't as much Dagmar as there used to be. She just decided she was "too much of a good thing." So now she's in a new economy-size package.

And if the Republican administration is looking for advice on how to trim down figures, Dagmar stands ready to help. Deciding her own blonde abundance was outgrowing the nation's television screens, she has trimmed her weight a full 20 pounds.

The new Dagmar, a canny lass who skyrocketed her income from $25 for her first video show to $7,500 a week for personal appearance tours, is positively svelte now instead of buxom.

"Honey"—she calls everybody that—"too much weight stymies my mind," she said. "The fat was getting around my brain. Now I can think faster. But I'm lucky. When I diet the weight comes off all over me. I feel so little."

She said, however, that whittling down her shape hadn't hurt her celebrated chest expansion—42½ inches normal, 45 expanded. Nor does she feel that her new svelte shape should stir any alarm in two potential blonde rivals—Zsa Zsa Gabor and Marilyn Monroe.

Dagmar portrays a dumb blonde, but in real life she is about as dumb as an albino-fox. She is a big, breezy, cheerful gal—as informal as a backyard clothesline hung with laundry.

"Honey, I'll tell you anything except my age and my weight—they both fluctuate too much," she said, as we sat sipping coffee in her penthouse apartment on Central Park South with her small slender husband, Danny Dayton, the comedian.

"I don't even know her weight," said Danny.

"If you ever tried to peek at those scales. I'd knock you right out of the bathroom," replied Dagmar cheerfully—and she could. "Every woman has a right to one secret from her husband. And that's mine."

Despite her profitable personal appearance tours Dagmar would like to have another television program to show off her new streamlined figure. But a good TV format—like a good man—is hard to find.

"If it's cultural, I'll go for it," she said, adding modestly: "I have nothing but a brain really."

U.N. Urges Renewed Effort Toward Austrian Treaty

A plea before the Assembly's Political Committee for an Austrian State Treaty to end the occupation and restore full sovereignty to his country was made by Dr. Karl Gruber, Austria's Minister for Foreign Affairs. The Committee on 19 December passed a resolution appealing to the four occupying powers "to make a renewed and urgent effort" to agree on treaty terms. The U.N. Assembly overwhelmingly endorsed this action. Shown is Dr. Gruber being interviewed by members of the press before a Committee session.

Guests from Corry Kiwanis at meeting included Past President Harry Hall, Secretary William Miller, and Rev. Paul Bauer. Immediate Past President of Youngsville Club, Ray Weber, was himself a Corry resident, was present.

Medical and Dental Examinations Take Place in Sheffield

School health examinations are in progress in the Lincoln school in Sheffield, with medical and dental examinations scheduled for grades one, three and five, according to Evelyn P. Gailor, principal.

These examinations are part of the statewide school health program and are required by law. Every school child in the commonwealth received a complete medical and dental examination every second year.

In discussing the program, Lauris B. Whitman, representing the department of agricultural economics and rural sociology of the Pennsylvania State College, emphasized the importance of the parents' place in this health plan.

The parent is invited to attend the examination and learn first hand the details of the child's health. It then becomes the responsibility of the parent to secure corrections of any defects which have been found. Certain types of assistance are available to aid parents in the securing of such corrections, he adds.

Mr. Whitman points out that the success of the whole program depends upon the parents' cooperation in attending the examinations and securing the corrections. "I especially urge all parents of children with medical or dental defects to contact the family physician at once," he says. "If there are any questions about the examination program, or about defects discovered, the school nurse will be available to discuss them."

LADY COW BOSS—Mrs. Phyllis Long, 32, left, is the first "yardwoman" to be employed by the Chicago stockyards in their 87 years of existence. She herds cattle into pens after they leave the weighing scales, presided over by Virginia Rush, weighmaster, who leans from the window of the scale house. Mrs. Long thinks the work is easy, compared to the truck-driving job she held for 14 years.

Cancer Head Urges Reading of Article On Saving of Lives

Careful reading of a magazine article was strongly recommended today by an American Cancer Society official as one means of saving many lives from mouth and throat cancer.

Dr. H. H. Lewis, president of the Warren County Chapter, ACS said the article "What You Read Here May Save Your Life," written by Philip Wylie, is a "strikingly accurate title!" The piece appears in the January 24 issue of Collier's, on the newsstands now.

The article emphasizes the fact that "most cancers of the mouth and throat, if recognized soon enough, can be removed surgically, or otherwise cured (by radiation for example)."

Three important symptoms that may mean cancer and that should take anyone to a doctor for advice are cited: a sore in the mouth or throat that does not heal in a week; a lump in the neck; or hoarseness that persists for two weeks.

The piece is largely the result of cooperation between a famous throat surgeon who remains anonymous and Mr. Wylie. The author who undertook the article at the urging of a friend who has had cancer for ten years and endured many operations and says "that if he had once known what he knows now, he could have saved himself years of unbelievable misery."

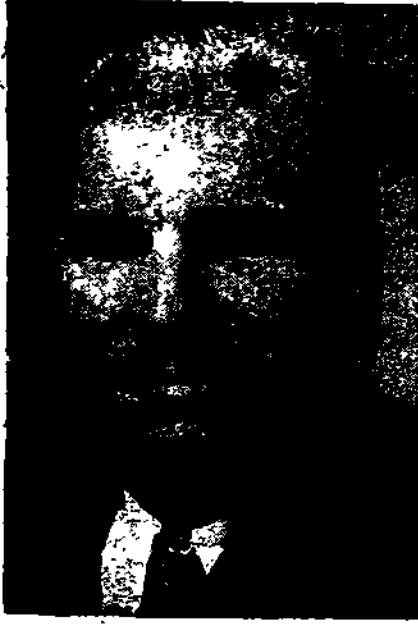

In conjunction with the local chapter of the American Cancer Society, the Business and Professional Women's Club has appointed Mina C. Rieder as assistant to Former superintendent of the Ontario District of the Church of the Nazarene, and now pastor of the growing and active church in Hamilton, Ontario, Rev. Woods is qualified to speak to youth from his years of experience in dealing with people and their problems; and his conduct of a weekly radio program, "Mid-Week Hymn Sing," at 10:00 a. m. Thursdays on the Hamilton station, 900 on the dial. Many will remember Mr. Woods as a brother to the Rev. Gordon V. Woods, former pastor of the local church.

These services, while sponsored by youth and directed to youth, will nevertheless have an appeal to all ages and everyone is cordially invited to attend each evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Rev. Robert F. Woods is invited to attend each evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Sec. Acheson's Last News Conference Is Dramatic One

Washington (P)—It was to be Secretary of State Acheson's last news conference. The small auditorium of the State Department was almost filled with reporters and commentators who had been dealing with him since he became secretary four years ago.

He came in, looking like a man who had had a good night's sleep. He seemed at ease, as usual, but with an almost birdlike alertness, which is also usual with him. Nothing about him suggested the extraordinary pressure of the four years unless perhaps it was his hair. It had turned very gray.

As he sat down at a small table, facing the newsmen, the photographers knelt on the floor. They said: "Start talking." He looked at them as if to say: "To whom?" Crouching closer, they said: "Talk over our heads." Acheson grinned: "Oh, I couldn't talk over your heads."

Everyone laughed. Everyone in the room, some time or other, had heard Acheson accused of talking down to people, particularly to congressmen, with whom his relations could hardly be worse.

Acheson, of course, might argue that he merely talked on the level he was used to while respectfully assuming his listeners were on the same level. And among his intimates he is said to be a lively man with a taste for earthy language. But this part of him could not be detected in his sometimes mildly humorous but always unbending public appearances.

No matter what the reason for his public austerity—a natural condition, a deliberate attitude or a deep self-consciousness—he was never, to his misfortune, able to establish a warm and personal link with Congress.

He happened to be in the State Department at a time of severe national anxiety over communism and had had a major part in shaping some of the most far-reaching postwar policies, such as arms for Greece and Turkey, the Marshall Plan, the Atlantic Pact, arms for Europe.

But while the European fortress was being cemented he was attacked for not having done enough in Asia, where communism, after overrunning China, finally erupted in the Korean War.

It is questionable that even President Truman would consider Acheson's judgment always beyond dispute.

Acheson has said little in his own behalf. He has shown enormous patience under attack.

Harry Logan Jr., 1953 cancer campaign director. The BPW deserves a great deal of credit for the proficient manner in which it handles the never-ending battle against the killing disease. Its members actively cooperate with the American Cancer Society not only at fund raising time but throughout the entire year.

State Health Dept. Considers Storage Of Blood Fraction

Harrisburg (P)—The State Health Department today explored the possibility of stockpiling gamma globulin, a blood fraction used to cut the spread of polio epidemics.

Dr. J. Moore Campbell, deputy health secretary, said the serum is "extremely scarce" and that it is questionable if enough would be available for the peak of the 1953 infantile paralysis outbreak next fall.

"It is our hope to stockpile gamma globulin here just as we have supplies of smallpox vaccine, and diphtheria anti-toxin," he told a newsman. "How the project will work we don't know."

The ultimate aim of the department, he said, is to gather enough gamma globulin here to be available for immediate call from hospitals and physicians in areas of the commonwealth hard-hit by polio.

Last year was Pennsylvania's second worst in the incidence of infantile paralysis. There were 1,894 cases reported compared to the record 2,182 in 1916.

Gamma globulin was used with some success in Texas last year to prevent paralytic polio. The National Research Council has the problem of determining what government agency will handle distribution of the scarce serum on a national basis.

Gov. John S. Fine already has thrown his support behind the stockpiling plan.

Optimistically, he told the Legislature two weeks ago: "By this coming summer we anticipate a supply of new vaccines and sera in sufficient quantity to combat polio wherever it may arise in the state. These latest medical research discoveries, it is believed, will be most effective in checking this dreaded disease."

Federal Reserve Board Runs Up Red Flag of Warning on Mounting Private Debt Total

New York (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board has run up a red flag of warning on the mounting total of private debt.
Its action comes just before a new regime takes over at Washington—a regime pledged to try to hold down the growing public debt and to put part of it into less inflationary form.
The Federal Reserve action is the unromantic one of tacking an additional 4 per cent onto the Federal Reserve Banks' rediscount rate. It will now cost member banks 2 per cent to borrow from the Federal Reserve Banks. The banks borrow these funds to get money to lend to corporations and individuals at 5 to 5 per cent.
Either the member banks will have to try to pass this on to their customers in higher interest rates, or they will make less money themselves.
The Federal Reserve apparently hopes that either alternative will discourage banks and their customers from adding to the total of private debt—which has risen to record heights in recent months. Americans owe some 300 billion dollars—their federal government some 267 billion dollars.
Consumer debt—buying on time charge accounts, personal loans from banks—is at a record high, nearly 24 billion dollars.
Corporate debt has soared as companies borrowed money to finance the greatest expansion of industrial plant and equipment in history.
The housing boom of recent years has sent the total of outstanding home mortgages steadily higher, now nearly 60 billion dollars.
Borrowing by businessmen to stock up for the Christmas trade sent bank loans to a record in December.
Belief that industrial production will increase in coming weeks has sent many manufacturers to the banks to borrow capital to finance output and distribution—while waiting for the ultimate consumer to settle the bill by paying the merchant.
The Federal Reserve action in raising the rediscount rate won't reverse all these trends, of course. But it is intended to bring bank credit under closer control, to slow down and discourage any new spurt of debt incurred by business and individuals.

DEDICATES SELF TO WORLD PEACE—President Dwight Eisenhower dedicates his administration to world peace in making his inaugural address. The President also stated he held no magic formula for winning the Korean war or achieving world peace.

No Worry over Watering a Seed-box Fed by Wick

Standard Seed-flat equipped with glass fibre wick, which raises water from pan to moisten soil.

When beginners attempt to start seeds in an indoor seed box a frequent cause of trouble is neglect to water the plants regularly. If the soil dries out and remains dry even a few hours the infant plants may be destroyed.

This is easily avoided, however, and your plants assured of constant moisture in the correct degree by a method of automatic watering widely used by florists. This is as simple as an oil lamp, and uses the same principle of wick action.

Through a hole bored in the center of the bottom of the seed box, a wick of fibre glass, or just a piece of clothes line 6 inches long, is inserted. The top is frayed and imbedded in the soil that fills the box and the bottom drops into a pan of water. As long as water is kept in this pan, the wick will raise it and keep the soil moist.

Tests have shown that plants watered in this way make maximum growth because water is always abundant, and yet not in excess; and since water is never applied to the surface, there is no washing, and no compacting of soil, which would check aeration. With such a seed box, in a sunny window, or in a cold frame, you can grow your favorite varieties of vegetables and flowers several weeks' head start this spring, and insure an earlier harvest of food or beauty.

Use nothing but soil in the box, so capillary action is not interrupted. Florists' potting soil is the best, or a fine garden loam, about half sand.

Layer of sphagnum moss sifted over soil before sowing, prevents damping off disease.

Sphagnum moss should be used to prevent damping-off, which is a fungus disease that frequently attacks seedlings. Rub the moss through a coarse sieve or colander and place a layer of this shredded moss over the soil in the flat to the depth of half an inch. Firm and saturate soil and moss. Drop the seeds on the moss, and cover very lightly with a thin layer of sphagnum. Proceed from this point on as with soil culture.

Seed may be broadcast one variety to a flat; or sown in rows, which allow several varieties to be grown in the same box, each row being labeled. Seeds which are broadcast are usually less crowded than those in rows. If you sow in rows, use the edge of a ruler to make shallow indentations in the soil; sow thinly, cover lightly, and firm the soil with a block of wood.

Keep the box in a dark place until sprouts appear, then place in the sunniest window you own. A kitchen window is good, because humidity is always greater there.

Legion Auxiliary In Ludlow Plans Help For School Patrol

Ludlow—Holding their January meeting in the American Legion Hall, members of the James Eber Auxiliary voted to have a bake sale and penny supper in the near future as a means of earning money to help the Hamilton Township School Safety Patrol.

Thirty members attended the business session, which was conducted by President Linnea Swanson. Mrs. James Markey applied for membership and was welcomed into the group. To conclude, refreshments were served by Mrs. Lawrence Larson and Mrs. William Ralston from a beautifully appointed table.

At an executive board meeting held by the group, responsibility was accepted for the Boy Scout banquet to be held in February. Mrs. Enoch Nelson and Mrs. Lawrence Larson will serve as chairmen, assisted by Mrs. Vernon Swanson and Mrs. Charles Fettsch, with all members to make contributions of food or money and to work on committees as notified. It was decided the bake sale planned for the February meeting will be held in March.

The Senior Girl Scout Troop sponsored a bake sale at American Legion Hall Friday afternoon for the benefit of the International Girl Scout Troop of Warren county. Chairman, Mrs. Lawrence Johnson, and leaders, Mrs. Margaret French and Mrs. Molly Stanim, organized the event and wish to express their appreciation to the community for its fine support. The girls also will receive some badge credit.

Barr Realigns His Heavies For Wrestling Match Tonight

DRAGON FIVE FAVORED OVER JOHNSONBURG

Matmen of Warren High School will appear against Johnsonburg High grapplers on the Beaty Junior High mats at 7.30 tonight for their third home match of the campaign.

Two new contenders will appear in Coach Homer Barr's lineup tonight and a rearrangement is in store for the three heavyweight divisions. The Dragons remain the favorites over Coach Frank Funair's groaners.

In the 120-pound class Bob Landers, who pinned his opponent in the first two matches and lost a decision to Oil City, is being replaced by Bob Miller. Frank Smith will see his first varsity action at 133, where he is filling in for Laverne Hanson. Hanson was pinned once and then came back to win two decisions so far in his career.

The shift does not require a change in personnel, but moves Walter Pittman out of the 154-pound class to heavyweight, drops Steve Olson out of 165 to 154, and changes Don Cummings from 185 to 165. To date Pittman has earned one decision and lost by pins twice, Olson has lost "three straight, and Cummings has been put to the mat two times, while acquiring one fall against Oil City.

Flyweight Lou Cummings and 135-pounder Glenn Cook are the only Dragons boasting three straight triumphs when they enter their matches in tonight's team bouts. Others on tonight's list are Wayne Miller at 103, credited with one forfeit and two losses; Bob Smith at 112, owner of a win, draw and defeat; Den Brown at 127, with two decisions and one loss by a fall; and Chuck Eaton at 145, with two defeats over one victory.

NAMED AS COACH
New Haven, Conn.—(A)—Ott Heller, former New York Ranger star defenseman, was named coach of the New Haven Nutmegs of the Eastern Hockey League yesterday.

THANK YOU, ERNIE MILLER
Shortly after press time yesterday afternoon a phone call from Ernie Miller at West Penn Oil informed the Sports desk that the Dan Dorsey in the picture of the 1931 Warren High football team was Bill Wilson. Ernie also informed the department that Bill held the 440-yard dash record for WHS, and a check through the records verifies that. In 1932 Wilson crossed the line in 51.4 and holds one of the few old time records still standing. This mark was threatened, however, in the past two seasons when Ron Irvine and Sam DeLeo each won six straight in that event for the Dragons.

Hall of Fame Picks Dean and Simmons. DiMaggio Is Eighth

New York, (P)—Dizzy Dean, the last 30-game winner in the majors, and Al Simmons, a 20-year man with a .334 lifetime batting average, are the 1953 additions to baseball's Hall of Fame.

Once again Bill Terry, former New York Giants' manager-first baseman just missed election by the 10-year veterans of the Baseball Writers Association. Memphis Bill missed by seven votes.

Joe DiMaggio, believed a sure thing to make the grade in his first year of eligibility, didn't even come close. The retired Yankee Clipper finished eighth, short 81 votes.

The veteran writers keep the last 30-game winner in the majors, and Al Simmons, a 20-year man with a .334 lifetime batting average, are the 1953 additions to baseball's Hall of Fame.

Election of Dean and Simmons raises the membership to 64, of whom 27 have been picked by the writers. A special committee, headed by Clark Griffith, Washington owner, selects the old-timers who were not active in the last 25 years.

Villanova, St. Bonaventure's And Sienna Are Teams Feared By Unbeaten Seton Hall Five

South Orange, N. J., (P)—Remember the old line, "Stagg tears Purdue," that they used to quote when Amos Alonzo Stagg's Chicago football teams were strong and Purdue's weak?

Well, Honey Russell, coach of the undefeated Seton Hall basketball team, says "I'd worry if we were playing the Nova Scotia fire department."

The fire laddies, of course, are not among the 12 teams standing between the Hall and a perfect season.

"But anything can happen in basketball, and we could lose all 12 of our remaining games," he insists when you ask if his team, the only major unbeaten club in the nation, can go through without a loss.

"The toughest ones look like Villanova, St. Bonaventure, Siena—they're always tough for us, and our western trip at the end with Loyola in Chicago, Dayton and Louisville. And I understand Dayton will be pointing for us after we beat them last week."

Russell, always a realist already has taken steps to guard against his team being affected by its ranking as No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll. With his team scheduled to go after No. 19

Coach Gross Exudes Over Arnette Scoring

State College, Jan. 22—Coach Elmer Gross believes Penn State's sophomore ace, Jesse Arnette, may have found himself in his 28-point scoring spree against Ithaca College.

The New Rochelle, N. Y., giant, who found the range on 71 per cent of his shots, currently is averaging 16.6 points per game as compared with his 20-point average at a comparable stage last year.

"He was doing things with authority again," Gross said, and his shooting average definitely topped anything I've ever seen here."

The team as a whole was hitting against the Ithacans, compiling a 45 per cent average in a 105-47 rout which brought the Nittany Lions their highest point total in 57 years of court play.

Arnette, who as a freshman set new single game and season scoring standards, boosted his two-year, 38-game point total to 691—topping the previous high of 668 set in 1949-50-51 by Lou Lamee.

It was Arnette's best night of the year and gave him 199 points for 12 games. He scored 492 points in 25 games last year.

Pittsburgh Hornets Back in First Place

The defending champion Pittsburgh Hornets are back in first place in the American Hockey League today, thanks to Bobby Solinger.

The fast-skating forward whipped home two goals in the final period last night to give the Hornets a 4-2 victory in a penalty-strewn game with the Hershey Bears. Pittsburgh's triumph proved the team past Cleveland, with 46 points to Cleveland's 45 while Hershey remained in third place with 43.

Sixteen penalties were called in the wild struggle, with five players going to the penalty box after one melee in the first period. Four were major penalties and police were needed to restore order. Danny Lewicki and Andy Barbe gave Pittsburgh leads of 1-0 and 2-1, but first Dunc Fisher and then Obie O'Brien tied for Hershey.

Will Resume Bitter Feud Mon. at Celoron

Celoron—One of the oldest and bitterest of wrestling feuds will be resumed after a two-year lapse when Lucky Simonovich meets "The Bull" Wright in the main event at Skateland arena Monday night.

Simonovich, back from an extended tour of Australia and Europe, will pick up right where he left off with Wright when he meets the 255-pound Seattle giant in a finish bout.

Promoter Frank Scaghone will introduce a newcomer, Jim Austeri of Italy, in the opener. He meets Frank Hurley, the Australian ace.

Bibber McCoy clashes with Jack Bence in the semi. Austeri and Hurley touch off the fireworks at 8:30.

Y-Teens Are Beaten By Oil City Varsity Team in Game Here

Warren Y-Teens went down to a 69-30 defeat at the hands of a classy visiting Oil City varsity on the high school court last night for their second loss in five starts this season.

Suffering a 23-11 deficit after the first period of play, the local lassies efforts to close the gap in the remaining quarters were just as vain.

Forward Koontz racked up 34 points and Jean Manby hit for 28 to pace the visiting Blue and White, while Dot Titus was held to 13 points for Warren. Vealing had 10 counters.

A 45-21 triumph for the Oil City Jayvees made it a complete night. Sumner was top pointmaker for the winners with 24 and DeLong and Burgess shared Warren laurels with six points apiece.

Gavilan Scores Lop-sided Win Over Vic Cardell; Will Fight Davey in Chicago on Feb. 11

Washington (P)—Kid Gavilan, with a couple of easy warmup victories under his welterweight championship belt, is all set to defend his title again.

On Feb. 11, Gavilan meets Chuck Davey in Chicago in what should be a humdinger of a fight.

Last night Gavilan tuned up for his title defense with a lop-sided non-title victory over Vic Cardell of Hartford, Conn. Gavilan weighed 152 to Cardell's 149.

Cardell, with more fighting heart than prudence, kept moving in even though he was getting thoroughly walloped by the champ.

Judge Benny Alperstein had it 99 points for Gavilan, 74 for Cardell; Judge Julian Whitestone, Gavilan 89, Cardell 81, and Referee Harry Volkman gave Gavilan 100, Cardell 72.

Since 300 is the maximum score, this meant Gavilan came within a couple of points of perfection. The fight was watched by a packed crowd of 5,625 and a nationwide television audience.

They saw Gavilan, a great one to fight in spurts, put on several surges that looked as if they meant a quick end for Cardell. Yet each time Cardell rode out the storm, Gavilan never was able to knock him down.

College Experts To Be Consultants For Panel at Tionesta

A panel will be one of the main features of the meeting "What Makes A Good Parent Good?" Wednesday, January 28, at 8:00 p. m. in the Tionesta Presbyterian Church Sunday School Rooms.

The meeting is sponsored by the Agricultural and Home Economics Extension Service, report Miss Esther Weaver and Russell M. Smith, Forest County Extension representatives.

Members of the panel are Rev. Edward M. McKee and Mrs. William Pickens, both of Tionesta; Mrs. Robert Kusselman, Tionesta; R. D. Mrs. Russell Mong, Red Brush; Glenn Shaffer from German Hill community and Raymond Schell from Marienville.

Marguerite Little, Family Life and Child Development specialist and Joe Cardenuto, Recreation Specialist, both from State College, will be on hand as consultants.

The meeting is a result of program planning meetings held in which the need for recreation either in the homes or communities of Forest County was felt. The exact problem will be aired at this meeting. Everyone is invited to attend and express his views on the subject. Parents of school age children, particularly teenagers, are given a special invitation for the event. Others are welcome, too.

Officers Are Chosen By Revolver League

Allison Knopf was elected president and William Jordan was chosen secretary-treasurer for the 1953 season of the Warren Revolver League when it met at the State Armory this week.

Approximately 30 pistol shooters participated in the shoot, which preceded the election, getting their sights sharpened up for the league matches that start this coming Monday. Dave Worley was high scorer for the event with a 265.

St. Bona's to Face Villanova Wildcats

St. Bonaventure, N. Y.—St. Bonaventure University's cagers, winners of their last two starts, will oppose Villanova's Wildcats on Saturday, January 24, in Buffalo Memorial Auditorium in the first game of a doubleheader program.

The Ed Melvin-coached Bonnies snapped a 5-game losing streak last week-end with a thrilling 59 to 58 decision over arch rival Anisus in overtime. Bonaventure followed that victory with an easy conquest of Gannon, 77 to 43.

THERE was an awkward little silence on the terrace.

"Perhaps that sounds rude, signora," he said, smiling, "but I am sure I ever had met you. I would remember. Me, I am very good at faces, but not so good at names. You will have a drink?" he said coaxingly. "It is a long steep pull up from the village, and so hot tonight. Almost one wishes the mistral would blow. What would you like?"

"I don't think..."

"Ah, no, do not refuse; please do not be cross because I cannot remember," Marian smiled, and something within her eased. She was looking at Mario again, and her heart was not racing. She was talking to him, and she was quite calm. And yet he still had the power to charm her. Now, knowing he had made a few points, and trying smilingly to talk him out of it, he was quite delightful. Marian laughed. She could not help it; it was what he was trying to make her do. And the sound of her own laughter, natural and unforced and amused, was such a strange sound that for a moment she was confused.

"Ah," he said delightedly, "that is better. Now, signora, will you have pity on me, and tell me who you are?"

Marian hesitated for a long moment, and then she said quietly, "Of course I will signor Carlotto. I am Marian Grainger. Anthea's mother."

He came round the table and took both her hands.

"The little Anthea's mother. I am so glad you have come."

A little pang of anxiety went through Marian. "Is she..."

"Ah, no, she is well. And so good a girl. So much help. So quick to think—how I ever worked without her!"

She looked at him, shook her head, and her hand went up to hide her mouth. Suddenly she did not know whether to laugh or cry.

"I know she is," Marian said quietly.

"IT IS NICE that her mother is here."

"Can a man be in love with two women at a time?" she said in her soft, deep voice.

Something about the voice seemed to open a vein of memory, for the yellow-brown eyes, with their very round pupils, so much more like a falcon's than a man's suddenly searched her face with swift concentration. She said painfully, "Mario—Marian. We used to laugh at it, do you remember?" He pressed his forehead.

"Ah, yes, I begin to remember," he said. "A minute. In Florence?" He looked at her again. "And you were not going to tell me?"

She shook her head. "I came here to tell you." She paused, and said, "Why didn't you come back?"

"Signora, you will not forgive me perhaps but we are old enough not to lie. In your face I could not remember the tall dark, English girl who was so determinedly in love. It meant..."

He spread his hands expressively, nothing, signora. I had, just after I met you, met my wife. My Katherine, Joe's mother. I could not say to you—this summer has been nice for you and me, pretending to love, but now it is over! You were so intense, so serious, so proud. So I made the quarrel. I thought, then it would not be so bad for you. It would be a real reason. You would be sad, but you would forget. You did not forget!"

She looked at him, shook her head, and her hand went up to hide her mouth. Suddenly she did not know whether to laugh or cry.

Mario said shrewdly, "You are very glad, Marian, that I don't love you after all! That I've not spent my life eating my heart out for a lost love?"

She flushed, bit her lip, laughed, and said, "You have made me see how absurd I was."

"Ah, to laugh at oneself, that is the biggest thing of all," Marian said hurriedly. "Well, I must go."

"But no," he protested. "Stay and see Anthea... she will be here shortly; we have to work..." and then I will drive you back to Cannes."

"Here is Anthea now, coming through the gate."

For a moment Anthea did not recognize her mother, for Marian was the last person on earth she expected to see. Then her heart leapt with delight, and she ran forward, her arms outstretched, and it was not until she stood, hugging and kissing Marian, and being hugged and kissed in return, that her surprise changed to a different sort of surprise at the unaccustomed warmth of her mother's greeting.

"You're as brown as an Indian," she said. "I'd scarcely have recognized you. How are you, darling?"

"I'm well... but mummy, what are you doing here?"

Russia Wins Great Successes While We Wait for Dust to Settle! Says Advisor

jeans. Chinese Nationalist troops would insist upon crossing the Yalu river.

"Take Japanese troops into Korea? South Korea bitterly opposes this and would fight the Japs instead of the North Koreans. Japan and Korea have been deadly enemies for 1,500 years. Japan, prosperous now because of the supplies it is pouring into Korea for the UN, faces a terrible depression later on and her only program would be to go through Korea into Manchuria.

"A stalemate peace? Well, it's better than a stalemate war. Is it better than starting World War III? China has hated Russia for thousands of years, but its Reds are now dependent on the Kremlin. We are quarreling with many of our allies on the Korean situation, a condition sparked by Russia. Why should the Kremlin give up such a situation? Russian Marxism maintains there will be a world economic collapse, then Communism can take over. Russia wants to keep up the Korean war to diminish our strength.

"If you're in favor of a stalemate war in Korea, don't let the 300,000 fighting men there know your sentiments! Their attitude is 'Let's get this damned thing over with!'

"Shall we build up the ROK Army? South Korea pleads for this. Two million men could be put in the field. There used to be 10 divisions of ROK's, now there are 12 and there will be 20 within a few months. They are magnificent fighting men. But South Korea has no navy. We've given them a few PT boats and they have 100 planes. It will take them a long time to train them in military technicalities, but we could bring home 90 per cent of our forces and leave 10 per cent to train them. However, if they're to do the fighting, we cannot tell them what peace to make. South Korea wants all the Communists driven out and all Korea united. Give them a chance and they'll go all the way to the Yalu river!"

Then Dr. Oliver approached the suggested solution with "Just as in a business which faces bankruptcy, let's find the answer," and said a complete and absolute push to the Yalu is the best. "All over Asia there is amazement that the great and powerful United States has been fought to a draw by only a portion of the Korean Communist Army!" declared Dr. Oliver. He said that if the drive is only to the Yalu there will be a starting admission of defeat by the Communists. He said Manchuria, bases and cities must be bombed. "Do not be deluded by men who tell you America must be patient and sit out this Korean situation," he said. "When someone tells you that, ask him 'What should we be patient for?' This is a negative policy which cost us China. Watch those who are preaching patience, 'waiting for the dust to settle.' The Russians have taken over a total of 800,000,000 people since we waited for the dust to settle after Potsdam seven years ago."

Dr. Oliver pointed out that three kinds of strength count: economic, military, moral. He said the Asians claim Russia has these, America does not. "Russia has a tremendous advantage until America learns to make sacrifices to achievement. We must learn what Americanism is, and realize, as he said, that 'a soldier's pack is lighter than a prisoner's chain.' Otherwise, the prospects look bleak."

The speaker interested his listeners with his declaration that "the North Koreans never were Communists." He said the 2,500,000 who fled into Manchuria and Siberia were well treated there, and were Communists by time they were moved back into North Korea to make up the Army, "together with the young squirts who had sprung up as Communists." Except for the Chinese Communists, the North Koreans would most certainly surrender in order to get out of this war.

"Where we would go from the Yalu river would depend on whether Russia would 'allow' us to make a peace when we reach it," said Dr. Oliver. "They may have played a hoax on us. Russia has been able to accomplish great successes so far without fighting."

In answering questions, Dr. Oliver confirmed the report that the U. S. has been asked to aid Nationalist China in landing troops on the Chinese mainland in sneak attacks, that POW's in South Korea are so well treated that they have plenty of time to plan disorders which are under direct supervision of the Kremlin, and said the death of Stalin would have no appreciable effect on Russia. What would happen to our own POW's in North Korea if we push to the Yalu? Dr. Oliver said they might be moved to the Siberian salt mines, or lost. "They are in a dreadful position," he admitted.

Almost 200 were present for the affair. LeRoy Schneck, in his usual able manner, acted as toastmaster. He introduced Wayne Russell of Washington, Pa., national Jaycee director from Pennsylvania, who told the Chamber's aims in business and industry and presented to Alex Fino, president of the local Chapter, two awards for first and third places in Jaycee activity in Pennsylvania during July of 1952 — first for the July 4th celebration, third for the sponsorship of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus in Warren. Mr. Fino, explaining that much of the success of the local Jaycees is due to their versatility. "It is fortunate that they boil at different degrees of temperature," he said. Fino's short talk was the best he ever gave, straightforward and sincere, and he was highly complimented afterward. He introduced officers and directors of the local Chamber as well as Dick Krapfel and Gerry Vesling, the committee in charge of the highly successful banquet. The invocation was impressive, given by Dan Walton, executive secretary of the YMCA.

Dr. Oliver, probably one of the most valued data bringers ever to visit Warren, was given a standing ovation.

The South Koreans would rather fight the Japs than the North Korean Reds.

We gave Russia what she wanted by allowing her to build up a strong army in North Korea while we refused to let South Korea build any Army at all. By giving Russia half a hope, we inspire further greed.

Except for the Chinese Reds, the North Korean Communists would most certainly surrender to get out of this war.

Russia wants the Korean war to continue. She has won marvelous successes, so far without fighting. Russia has taken over 600,000,000 people inside the Iron Curtain since we waited for "the dust to settle" after Potsdam seven years ago.

Russia has a tremendous advantage over us until we Americans learn to make sacrifices, learn what Americanism is. As Eisenhower said, "The soldier's pack is lighter than the prisoner's chain."

The men told officers that they were working under auspices of a St. Marys Childrens' Home. Their story was proved false, and they were given about an hour to get out of town.

EXPLAINS DECORATING

Mrs. Jessie Sandeen, consulting decorator, was at Warren High School today to explain some of the basic points of home decorating to the seventh period home economics class. Under the direction of Miss Marie Weisenfuh, the instructor, the class invited all girls who take this course and have a study hall that period to be present to hear the talk.

IN APPRECIATION

We wish to thank all the Volunteer Fire Departments, Warren Fire Department, Ladies' Auxiliary of Pleasant Township and all others who helped directly or indirectly in fighting the fire at Simones & Cook Garage. We temporarily are out of the repair business, but notice will be given when we will reopen.
